

THE SHERIDAN BAR

Welcome to The Sheridan Bar, where history and elegance intertwine to create an unforgettable experience. Named in honour of the cherished friendship between the renowned playwright and politician Richard Brinsley Sheridan (1751-1816) and the first Lord Crewe (1742-1829) along with his wife Frances, our bar is steeped in rich history. It's in this very room at Crewe Hall that the Crewe family graciously entertained Sheridan, inspiring him to dedicate his celebrated play, 'The School for Scandal,' to Frances in a heartfelt poem.

At The Sheridan Bar, we invite you to indulge in the timeless tradition of classic afternoon tea, savour pre-dinner champagne or cocktails, and unwind late into the evening. Whether you choose to spend your time here relishing the elegant surroundings during the day or relaxing into the night, you will be joining many prominent historical figures who have graced this venue throughout its long history.

The following is a selection of our drinks.
